MIDNIGHT.

GERMAN JUBILEE!

Celebrating Peace!

REPORTS FROM VARIOUS CITIES!

IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Germans are to-day celebrating the peace between the North German Confederation and France by a procession. President Grant and Secretary Boutwell reviewed the procession as it passed in front of the Executive Mansion, en route to Schutzen Park.

IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—The German peace celebration in this city took place according to programme. Hundreds of houses were decorated with flags, mottoes, evergreens, &c. Banners appropriately inscribed were suspended across the streets on the route of the procession and flags displayed on all the municipal buildings. The principal streets were thronged by people to see the parade. The procession in fourteen divisions composed military organizations, civil associations, representatives of various branches of industry moved from Broadway through the principal thoroughfares to Monumental square where it was reviewed by the Mayor and other officials. The festivities will close to-night with balls and illuminations.

IN NEW YORK.

The German peace procession, which took place to-day, in point of numbers and enthusiasm, excelled any similar display ever witnessed in this city. From an early hour the streets were crowded with organizations to witness the pageant. The streets along the line of march of the procession were densely crowded, as was every window and balcony commanding a view of the scene. Flags were displayed from almost every house, and a majority of the German stores closed, proprietors and employes participating in the procession. In front of the City Hall was erected a large platform, from which the procession was reviewed by Gov. Hoffman, Mayor Hall members of the Common Council, heads of city departments, Commissioners, Judges of State Courts and many other prominent persons gathered about and greeted it with cheers and waving of banners.

At the mass meeting in Tompkins Square, held after the procession and which was a vast assemblage, speeches were made by Horace Greeley, ex-Governor Solomon, Mr. Oswald Ollendorfer and others. Governor Solomon in his address said the whole civilized world has reason to rejoice at the victory of Germany, which, unlike France, was not actuated by a spirit of glory and conquest and desired only to be allowed to cultivate her fields in peace.

IN CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, April 10.—The grand peace jubilee, for a long time in preparation, took place to-day. The day was beautiful; most of the railroads had reduced their fares for the occasion, and the morning trains brought in thousands of people from all parts of Northern Ohio. At an early hour the squares and sidewalks and principal streets were thronged. The decorations in all parts of the city were elaborate and beautiful, fully equalling any display of a similar character ever seen here. The honors were about equally divided between the Star Spangled Banner and the colors of Prussia and the various States of the German Empire. The triumphal arch erected on the square is an imposing structure. It stretches across the whole street and rises to a height of over 80 feet. It is 80 feet wide, divided into three arches. The central arch is 30 feet wide, 55 high in the clear, the side arches, each 15 feet wide and 30 feet high in the clear, and the central arch is surmounted by the eagle of the German Empire. On each side of the pediment of the central arch are allegorical figures. Emanating from the pediment on each side are two flags, one the American and the other the flag of the German Empire. The pediment is ornamented in the centre by a shield representing the rising sun with the word "Freedom" under it. On the top of the entablature of the two side arches are pyramids of cannon balls with cannon and stacked muskets and flags of the different States of Germany. Above each pilaster of the sides of each small arch are the banners of Saxony, Bavaria, Wurtemburg and Baden. The entire height from the pavement to the top of the eagle is 85 feet. The structure is designed in the Corinthian style of architecture. The arches are tastefully festooned with evergreen, wreaths, &c. It cost about fifteen hundred dollars.

The procession was the gayest that ever marched through our streets, and presented a brilliant and lively spectacle. It was nearly two miles long, and was an hour passing a given point. The prominent feature of it was the representation of Germania, which was an elaborately finished statue and stood on a vehicle drawn by twelve horses. After marching through some of the principal streets the procession halted at the arch, where the orator of the day, Rev. Dr. Jacob Mayer, delivered an oration in German. The exercises of the jubilee close to-night with a grand ball at the Central Rink.

ACCIDENTS.

During the day there were several serious casualties by one of which two little boys were killed by a runaway horse. By another one of the Germans assisting in firing a salute had his left hand blown off.

IN NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, April 10.—The German celebration to-day in commemoration of peace and triumph of the German arms in France, was unusually imposing and enthusiastic. Almost the entire German population participated. The procession was large in number and composed of the best material, with flags and banners and various devices. After marching through several streets it prepared to the Horticultural Garden, where it was received by the citizens already assembled. Speeches were made by J. B. Jeup, late of Cincinnati, and John Rahm, in German, and Henry S. Foote and D. W. Peabody in English. The Germans are prolonged their festivities to-night, with music, dancing and feasting at Concordia and Turner Halls.

AT WHEELING.

WHEELING, April 10.—The German peace celebration in this city to-day was a grand success beyond all expectations. Every thing passed off satisfactorily. The weather was good, and it was the largest procession ever seen in this city, being fully two and one-half miles long. A large number from the country and adjacent towns participated. The roads leading to the city were full of wagons and carriages all day, and railroads and packets were full of people. Business houses, hotels and dwellings were beautifully decorated. There was the usual number of runaways and accidents, but none were serious. Distinguished speakers addressed the celebrators this afternoon at the close of the procession. A grand banquet and ball at Turner's Hall was in process to-night.

IN WILMINGTON.

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 10.—The German Peace Festival to-day was a great success. The procession was the largest of German citizens ever held here. The festivities closed with a dinner, ball and concert.

SCRANTON.

All Quiet—Untrustworthy Troops Sent Home—Fatal Shooting Accident—Meeting of Railroad Men—More Troops on the way—The Grand Parade Relinquished—Workingmen's Benevolent Association.

SCRANTON, April 10.—No outrage or riot has happened since Thursday last. Governor Geary's levies, which arrived Saturday, were distributed at the principal mines, and they have not been molested. The troops which had been brought on by General Osborn were found to be, in the main, miners, and as such deemed untrustworthy in case of conflict with their brethren, and were sent home yesterday.

The only blood shed so far was shed last night by accident. One officer on guard at the coal establishment wakening from the nightmare, startled his companions, and in the confusion his gun was fired, the ball passing through his body and entering that of a Lieutenant. Both of these men died to-day.

Last night there was a preliminary meeting of the leading railroad men now present. There was no decided action taken, and to-morrow a large delegation will meet to discuss the new issues involved in Governor Geary's proclamation.

It is stated the leader of the crowd which interfered with the work on Saturday will be arrested at once, and in such an event a serious resistence is feared. Three more companies of militia are to arrive to-morrow from the neighboring towns, to reassure citizens, who are almost without local police, the firemen constituting the regular force.

The miners, to convince the citizens of their law-abiding disposition, have relinquished the idea of the grand parade announced for to-morrow.

A General Council of the Workingmens' Benevolent Association will assemble in Wilkesbarre on Tuesday, and important results are expected. These leaders have under consideration a proposition recently submitted by the Governor and the Railroad Companies. On their verdict rests virtually the whole question of resumption as this meeting will greatly facilitate the purposes of the Companies whose chief representatives are now assembling here. The leading men here are not sanguine of an early resumption.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Apache Outrages.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—On the first inst. the Apaches captured Jones' Wagon train of seventy mules and killed Dutch Henry, one of the drivers.

SHIPPING.

The schooner J. H. Roscoe, of San Francisco, was lost at Matawaka, Alaska. The crew escaped. Arrived—The Dutch bark Cornelie Prabdingo, from Java.

BILLIARDS.

Joseph Dion and Rudolpe played eleven four ball carom games, two hundred and fifty points each for a hundred dollars a game, lasting till day break in the morning. Rudolphe was one game ahead.

PHILADELPHIA.

Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—The chemical works of Harrison & Bros. were injured by fire this morning to the extent of $15,000 to $20,000.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 9, 1871.

SENATE.

Mr. EDMUNDS, from the Judiciary Committee, reported with amendments the House Ku Klux bill. He stated that he would move to proceed with it at one o'clock to-day. Upon the proposition by Mr. Anthony to hold a night session hereafter, the opinion generally expressed was that Congress would be ready to adjourn on Saturday or Monday next and a vote on the Ku Klux would be reached on or before Thursday.

Mr. THURMAN said so far as he knew there was no disposition on the Democratic side to protract debate.

Mr. DAVIS, of Kentucky, concurred in this.

The hour of meeting to-morrow, on motion of Mr. HAMLIN, was fixed for 11 o'clock, and the order for night sessions laid over until then.

The remainder of the morning hour was occupied with the consideration of the Blodgett and Goldthwait cases, Mr. HILL stating at length the reasons why Blodgett should not be admitted.

Mr. HILL concluded at 2:30 P. M., when a motion by Mr. Edmunds to lay aside the subject and to proceed with the Ku-Klux bill, was defeated 25 to 26.

Mr. STEWART then argued in support of Blodgett's claim to a seat. He defended that gentleman from Hill's charges of bad personal character, bribery in his election and perjury in taking the iron clad oath.

Mr. MORTON argued in support of the validity of Blodgett's election and Scott against.

Mr. SHERMAN opposed the admission of both Blodgett and Goldthwaite.

During the debate EDMUNDS remarked as the Ku-Klux Bill had been delayed through the aid of Democrats, he hoped its friends would adhere to the under-standing to dispose of it on Thursday, even though it should not be taken up until Thursday morning.

Without disposing of the pending question the Senate at five o'clock adjourned.

HOUSE.

In the House, under a call of the States, bills were introduced and referred by Mr. HALE for the removal of all legal and political disabilities, excluding only members of Congress who withdrew from Congress and aided the rebellion, officers of the army and navy who aided the rebellion, and members of the State Convention who voted for and signed ordinances of secession.

Mr. ELDRIDGE proposed that the bill should be put upon its passage immediately.

Mr. HALE proposed its reference to the Select Committee on the President's Ku-Klux Message, and it was so referred.

Mr. ARMSTRONG of Dakota, presented joint resolutions from the Dakota Legislature, commenting in a faceious style on the triangular contest for a seat as delegate from that territory, but the Speaker refused to admit it for-reference.

The resolutions offered two weeks ago by Mr. Parker, of New Hampshire, that the tariff should be so reformed as to be a tax for revenue only, and not for the protection of class interests, at the general expense, came up next in order. The question being on seconding the previous question, the House refused to second it.

Mr. MAYNARD moved to refer the resolution to the Committee of Ways and Means. Agreed to.

Mr. BECK offered a preamble and resolution in reference to taxation and declaring that the House disapproves inordinate taxation and to pay off an immense amount of public debt as heretofore practised by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The morning hour expired and the resolution went over.

Bills were introduced and referred as follows:

By Mr. HOAR, for the appointment of a Commissioner on the subject of the division of profits between labor and capital.

By Mr. SCOFIELD: To provide a postoffice building at Erie, Pennsylvania.

Mr. GARFIELD offered a resolution for the payment during the present session of Committee clerks of last Congress who have continued in service. Adopted.

Mr. HALE moved to suspend the rules, and pass the bill for the removal of legal and political disabilities which he had introduced this morning.

Mr. MAYNARD inquired whether the bill had not been referred to a special committee appointed on the President's Message.

Mr. HALE replied that since the reference he had conferred with most of the members of the committee, and he had found among them no objection to the passage of the bill.

Mr. MAYNARD made a point of order that the bill was before a committee and not in possession of the House.

The Speaker overruled the objection.

Mr. HALE stated that this was a copy of the original bill which had been referred.

Mr. STOUGHTON proposed that the bill should be postponed until after the passage of the bill by the Senate to repress the Ku Klux outrages in the South.

Mr. COX and others objected to the debate.

The rules were suspended and the bill passed—yeas 131, nays 36, amid great applause on the floor and in the galleries.

Nays—Messrs. Ambler, Barber, Beatty, Buffington, Coburn, Conger, Cotton, Creely, Dunnell, Elliott, Haven, Hazleton (Wisconsin), Hazleton (New Jersey), Hoar, Lansing, Lowe, Maynard, McCreevy, McJunkin, Mercer, Merriam, Monroe, Orr, Packard, Packer, Palmer, Porter, Prindle, Ellis H. Roberts, Rusk, Sawyer, Seeley, Shanks, Shellabarger, Smith (Ohio), Sprague, St. John, Taffer, Townsend (Pa.), Tyler, Walden, Waldron, Wallace, Wheeler, Williams (Indiana) and Wilson (Indiana).

Absent or not voting: Ames, Bigley, Biggs, Bingham, Blair, of Missouri; Brooks, of New York; Burdett, Butler, of Massachusetts; Butler, of Tennessee; Clark, Cobb, Critcher, Darrall, Dickey, Duell, Farker, Getz, Goodrich, Haldeman, Halsey, Harmer, Killinger, Kinzella, Mitchell, Morgan, Morphis, Leonard, Myers, Negley, Percy, of Ohio; Peters, Price, Rainey, Read, Ritchie, Session, Shoemaker, Smith, of New York; Smith, of Vermont; Spier, of Pennsylvania, Stowell, Townsend, of New York; Tuthill, Upson, Warner, Washburn and Williard.

Mr. WILLIAMS, of New York, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to extend or continue the contract for the improvement of the harbor of Buffalo, New York, made on the 20th of January, 1868. Agreed to.

Mr. HAWLEY moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill for the withdrawal of public lands from sale and prescribing the manner in which they may be disposed of under the preemption and homestead laws.

Mr. MAYNARD moved to adjourn. Negatived.

Mr. HAWLEY'S motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill in relation to public lands again came up.

The House refused to suspend the rules and pass the bill, by yeas 59, nays 109.

Mr. COX asked leave to offer a resolution requesting the President to communicate any unpublished correspondence between the British and American Government relating to the release of Fenian prisoners, especially that with reference to the case of Halpin.

Mr. HOAR objected.

Mr. KELLY moved to suspend the rules and adopt the following report:

Resolved, That this House re-affirms the resolution adopted on the 12th of September, 1870 by the House of the 41st Congress, declaring that the true principle of revenue reform points to the abolition of the internal revenue system, which was created as a war measure, to provide for extraordinary expenses, and the continuation of which involves employment at the cost of millions annually, of an army of assessors, collectors, supervisors and other officers previously unknown, and requires its repeal at the earliest day consistent with the maintenance of the faith and credit of the Government, of all stamp and other internal taxes. That properly adjusted rates should be retained on distilled spirits, tobacco and malt liquors so long as the legitimate expenses of the Government require collection of any sum from internal taxation.

Mr. COX characterized the resolution as a pig iron proposition and the most perfect humbug he had ever known.

Mr. HOOPER suggested that Mr. Cox had no right to a monopoly of humbugs. [Laughter.]

The rules were suspended and the resolutions adopted—yeas 130, nays 21.

Mr. DAWES reported back the Senate amendments to the Deficiency bill, which were made the special order for to-morrow.

Mr. COBURN moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill providing for additional members in the Forty-second Congress as follows: From Alabama, Arkansas, California, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia one; from Georgia, Kansas, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas and Wisconsin two each; from Iowa, Michigan and Missouri three each; and from Illinois four. These additional members to be elected on general tickets and if no election is provided for 1871 in any of those States or if the Legislature does not fix a day for the election then the Governor of the State is to do so by proclamation sixty days in advance.

House adjourned.

THE MASONIC BANQUET.

WASHINGTON, April 10, 1871.

THE JOINT HIGH COMMISSION.

In addition to what has already been telegraphed from Washington regarding the Joint High Commission a special correspondent says, there is high authority for the statement that the fishery question and also the question of the Alabama claims have already been so far disposed of as to be no longer matters of discussion at the sessions. A basis of agreement on the Alabama claims, has already been secured, which will probably be satisfactory to the representatives of both countries. It is also ascertained that the questions named above have occupied less time of the Commission than the no less important one of the San Juan boundary case which has been more difficult and complicated, and which has caused the most discussion, research and examination. This, it is stated, is now the only point of difference between the United States and the English Commissioners, and the duties of the Commission would have been closed by this time but for this question of Treaty which will certainly be ready in less than two weeks, and the President said within two days that he intended to call an extra session of the Senate, for the purpose of considering the Treaty if Congress should adjourn before the presentation of the Commissioners agreement.

DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT.

City of New Albany et al. vs. Putnam et al. Appeal from the District Court for Indiana. This was a bill filed to reach certain unpaid stock of a a railroad company issued, and to be issued to the city, and the decree below was for the complainant. This Court revises the decision, and remands the cause with directions to dismiss the bill as to the city.

The First National Bank, South Bend, vs. Lanier, et al., error to Circuit Court for Indiana. The discussion in this case is that stocks of National banks cannot be pledged by any stockholder to the bank issuing them as security for loans or discounts. The judgement in the case is affirmed.

The case of A. T. Stewart, et al., vs. Bloom et al., error to Supreme Court for Louisiana. The judgement of the court below sustained the validity of the Louisiana statute of proscription which barred the right of recovery on a promissory note held by Stewart & Co., which was not sued on within five years. This court reverse the judgement and remand the cause, with directions to overrule the plea of proscription.

MASONIC BANQUET.

Stronge, Secretary to the British Legation, attended a reception and banquet at Masonic Temple this evening given by the Masonic fraternity of the district in honor of the Earl. The Masons assembled about 150 in number, including 8 Senators, 34 members of the House, among them the members of former Committees on Foreign Affairs. When Earl de Grey was escorted into the Grand Lodge room, he was invited to occupy the Grand Masters chair and after a few minutes had passed, Grand Master Stansbury delivered an address, breathing warmest words of fraternal welcome.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis of the past twenty-four hours. The cloudy and threatening weather prevailing on Sunday evening in the Central Mississippi Valley as is shown by the reports received this morning was a portion of a storm then passing over Missouri which this morning was central in southern Illinois in which State it still remains. Light rains and cloudy weather are now reported in the northwest of the Ohio valley with brisk northeast wind on Lake Michigan and Erie. No reports received from Minnesota nor west of Omaha. At the latter place a northwest gale prevails, with light snow. The pressure has fallen on the gulf and Lake Ontario, with cloudy weather.

SPANISH CONFERENCE.

It is understood that the Spanish American Conference will meet to-morrow at the Department of State for the purpose of signing the armistice. Spain and the four Pacific Republics will be fully represented. Bolivia, which has not thus far sent any representatives, has empowered Col. Freyere, Peruvian Minister, to act in its behalf. There is very little doubt but that the armistice will be signed at once, and will be followed very soon by the conclusion of peace.

PROBABILITIES.

It is probable that threatening weather with brisk winds, will be experienced on Tuesday on the gulf, lower Mississippi, lakes Erie and Ontario, and to a less extent in the Eastern States. Cloudy weather and falling barometer are probable for the Middle and Southern Atlantic. There are not sufficient reports from the Northwest to indicate probable weather on lakes Michigan and Superior.

NOMINATIONS.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate: F. L. Bond, Register of Land Office, Salina, Kansas; D. R. Wagstaff, Receiver of Public Money, Salina, Kansas.

RECOVERING.

Treasurer Spinner is rapidly recovering from his recent serious illness, but will not be able to attend to business for at least two weeks.

THE NEW LOAN.

The subscriptions to the National Loan to-day, amounted to $600,000.

CHICAGO.

The Scanland Tragedy.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The sad tragedy, which occurred in this city on Sunday last, is still the theme of excited controversy and discussion. Every rumor having any reference to the tragedy is caught up and spread with wonderful alacrity, and generally much exaggerated as to facts. The statement of Mrs. Scanland, implicating the wife of Colonel Farrar, of the Evening Journal, has been laid before the public, and opinion is divided upon the statements therein contained. The Journal of this evening contains a response to that from the friends of Mrs. Farrar, in which the statements of Mrs. Scanland are controverted or explained in such a manner as to dispel all idea of criminality on the part of Mrs. Farrar. The statement is as follows: "It is not unknown to many of the readers of this paper that the lady whose name has been brought into such objectionable prominence in connection with this unhappy event, is very near and dear to its proprietor, but under no circumstances would either relationship or affection induce him to shield wrong doing, if any actually existed. The facts, however, are far otherwise, and it would be unjust to both the public and himself were not this statement made in asserting the innocence of any, the slightest culpability even. In that carelessness that sometimes precipitates unhappy events, it is not intended to add to the woes of that unhappy widow so suddenly called on to lament the untimely end of one who was doubtless dearly loved, and with whom she looked forward to years of happiness, nor to affect in any manner the vindication of the unhappy young man who finds himself to-day the tenant of a felon's cell, for in that respect this article is confined to the barest statement of a few facts essential, and as solely essential to the protection of the reputation of the lady in question. We will say by them that the imputations upon that reputation are utterly baseless. The picture respecting which mention has been made was a joint photograph of Mrs. Scanland and Mrs. Farrar taken long before the marriage, or even the betrothal of either of them and belonged to the former, whose possession of it can scarcely be deemed singular in view of the intimate friendship which had existed between these ladies for years. The alleged interview between the deceased, his wife and this lady at his office did indeed take place, but it was in the presence of a third party and transpired wholly in the one room which constituted that office and was the result of the efforts of Col. Farrar himself to bring about a reconciliation of the estranged couple. It was Col. Farrar and not his wife who was visited by the Doctor and made aware of his design to have himself conveyed to a hospital and it was in view of so lamentable an occurrence that the effort was made to avert it. The alleged horse car rides and buggy drives, all of which transpired on the same day were entirely accidental and were known to Mrs. Farrar's husband who sympathized with the afflictions of both parties and joined with his wife in the endeavors to allay them as far as possible. At this time it occurred neither to this lady nor to her husband that any misapprehension could exist or that there had been anything susceptible of misconstruction of what had transpired. It appears that some enemy of Mrs. Farrar, so declared by him or her in the communication, wrote anonymous letters to Mrs. Scanland during the latter's absence in Missouri and it is to this that the changed state of Mrs. Scanland feelings and the unhappy consequences that ensued may be attributed. It is unnecessary to add that the assertions in this base attempt to produce trouble, unhappily too successful, were entirely groundless. More might be said yet. The situation of the immediate parties to the tragedy, precludes elaboration. Our object is to repel the intimations and insinuations against the fair fame of one who, as she has hitherto been, is still irreproachable in every walk of life, without unnecessarily casting reproach in any quarter, or increasing the difficulties which surround any member of this unhappy family."

REV. MR. CHENEY SUSTAINED.

The election of officers in Christ Church, Rev. Mr. Cheney's, took place to-day, and resulted in the election of a ticket pledged to sustain Mr. Cheney by a vote of 95 to 1.

Yesterday at the same church nineteen persons presented themselves for confirmation. Bishop Whitehouse was not present. After the sermon Mr. Cheney requested those who were willing to be confirmed to present themselves at the chancel rail. All came forward. While they were standing Mr. Cheney gave them a brief address on the solemn step they were about taking, and then all knelt before the Rector, and he administered to them the ordinance of confirmation.

THE Marquis de Vallon tried, after the battle of Orleans, to revive the order of Jehu, a secret society, formed during the occupation of France by the allied armies, by Frenchmen who had sworn to kill as many Cossacks as possible. This time the victims of the Jehus were to be the Prussian uhlans. But the first raid which Vallon and his Jehus made upon a village occupied by thirty uhlans proved disastrous to them and their order. The uhlans had been warned of the approach of the enemy and suddenly surrounded Vallon and his men. After a slight resistance they surrendered. Vallon and his two aids were shot on the spot, and the other Jehus were sent home after being severely flogged on the bare back. After that nothing further was heard of the order.

THE MINERS.

Men Beaten--Mines Stopped--Property Destroyed--One Thousand Murderers in Arms--Military Aid Called For.

The Scranton Republican of Saturday says:

Yesterday was a day of lawlessness and riot, in sad contrast with the usual observances of holy day, Good Friday. Early in the morning a large mob, composed of W. B. A. men of Hyde Park and neighborhood went to the coal works of Messrs. Hill & Fellows, and drove the men who are employed there from the premises and stopped the works, threatening to kill every "d—d blackleg" who attempted to resume work. About the same time another body of the same class of men proceeded to the Connell mine, a few miles down the river, where the same scenes of intimidation, threats and lawlessness were enacted, and the workmen forced to join their ranks. A body composed principally of the same men, numbering about five hundred, next marched to "No. 5," L. I. & C. Company's works, where, after heaping curses and abuse upon all employed in the mine, they demanded that the miners throw down their tools and come out, and after several hours parley the demand was complied with and work ceased. At about eight o'clock in the morning the rioters commenced assembling at the Tripp Slope (where an attempt had been made on Thursday to stop the works), and in several hours the mob had increased to nearly a thousand. Here the most infamous and murderous outrages were committed; outrages so brutal and unmanly that none but base and cowardly wretches would have committed them. After some of the men attempted to leave the works and proceed to their homes they were set upon with pistols, stones and clubs, and injured in such a brutal manner that the lives of some are despaired of, and they may even now be dead. Duloss Moore was pursued by six men and escaped with his life by fording the river. He was repeatedly stoned but kept the villains at bay with his revolver. His brother Thomas did not escape so fortunately. He was overtaken and beaten and kicked in a most shocking manner. He would undoubtedly have been killed on the spot had not still another brother—William Moore—fortunately come upon the scene, and by a few well directed blows scattered the assailants. The injured man was taken to his home and his wounds dressed by Dr. Roberts. Marshal Suzee was also terribly beaten and cut in the back, legs and head. He was cared for by Dr. Hollister. Another man, whose name we could not learn was shot in the face, and is now in a very critical condition—perhaps dead. After clearing out the works the crowd marched to the Notch to attack the works of Mr. Ed. Rock, (the breaker at the Clark shaft,) who had a few men at work. The same cowardly and brutal scenes were here repeated, with the addition that the gates were hoisted and the pockets emptied of all the coal in them. The rioters then proceeded to the old Rockwell breaker which they fired and burned to the ground.

Early in the morning, or during Thursday night, the rioters made a raid upon the coal works of Mr. Joseph Church, leased to Messrs. Morris & Weeks. Here they tore up the track from the slope to the screen house, and blew up the mouth of the slope. The destruction here is complete, and it will take a long time to repair the damage. The whole affair was evidently well understood and deliberately planned by the Ku-Klux branch of the Workingmens' Benevolent Association. The plan was to permit no miner, or any one else, to cut a pound of coal for any price, for any one, or for any purpose. They will find that the very end they hoped to accomplish by deeds of murder, violence and outrage is beyond their reach forever. They have brought disgrace, odium, and condemnation upon the very name of their organization—a loss which they will never again recover.

The miscreants, who were the personation of lawlessness, oppression and felony, even had the hardihood to pollute the American flag by carrying it at the head of the mob.

But the end has been reached. The strong arm of the law, with the military to enforce it, will now shelter the property and lives of our citizens, and protect the poor starving men who desire to work and feed their impoverished families. Let us hope that the men have taught a lesson which they will long remember, and that this is the last attempt that will be made to coerce any American citizen—native or foreign-born—or interfere with him in the exercise of his right.

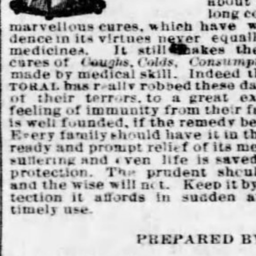
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.



The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

BONDS at Frankfort, 96¾@96¾.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 110¾@110⅞.

THE DETERMINATION of the miners at Scranton not to have their parade, which was fixed for to-day, is certainly wise. Nor does it matter whether the idea was abandoned in order to convince the citizens of their law-abiding disposition, as they assert, or whether it arose from other causes. Had the parade taken place, bloodshed would have been inevitable.

NOW that the Senate has recognized the justice of passing a bill to compensate General Schenck for his services up to the time he shall reach his post in England, it is to be hoped that the House will take instant action in the matter and render what is nothing more than justice to one in his official capacity, but detained here only for the interests of the Government he represents.

THE bill with reference to the removal of all political disabilities, excluding only members of Congress who withdrew from Congress and aided the rebellion. Officers of the army and navy who aided in the rebellion, and members of the State Convention who voted for and signed ordinances of secession, has been referred to the Select Committee on the President's Ku-Klux Message. The effort made to have the bill put on its passage immediately failed, but the probabilities are that it will be reported back from the Committee favorably within a very short period.

WE hope the rumor that the Fishery question is to be settled by the Joint High Commission, by the United States paying a certain sum of money to Canada for certain privileges, is untrue. While there can be no possible objection to the United States Government paying for what it may purchase of Canada, yet we do not want any set-offs to the damages raised by the Alabama claims. We have deprecated from the first the introduction of the Fishery question before the High Commission, and believe now, as we have always done, that the question with regard to the more important Alabama claims will suffer thereby.

BALTIMORE AND PITTSBURGH yesterday were joined together by a direct line of railway, the last spike of which was driven home in the presence of President W. O. Hughart, of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, in the afternoon at 3:20 o'clock. Thus, after the wearisome waiting and watching through long years, has been consummated the wedding of the proud Monumental and Iron cities, and the union cannot but prove mutually advantageous and happy. Our people have in this event much to congratulate themselves upon. In it they obtain a new, short pathway to the seaboard, over which will travel a share of the manufactured products of our mills and workshops; it opens up to agriculture thousands of acres of hitherto wild, waste lands, unlocks new treasure boxes of nature richly loaded with minerals, and binding in close communion the thrifty people of Pittsburgh with their multitudinous interests, to the prosperous and enterprising Baltimoreans. In rejoicing over the consummation, we must not forget to pay proper tribute to the man who, above all others, deserves the credit for the completion of the road—W. O. Hughart, Esq. He has labored earnestly, perseveringly and persistently for the accomplishment of a railway union of Pittsburgh and Baltimore, and now that his fondest hope has been realized, and his zealous exertions have been crowned with actual success, let him receive the large share of credit due him for the great work.

WHAT NEXT?

From present appearances Democracy is likely in the long run to take but cold comfort from the San Domingo difficulty. It must be conceded however, that it has made as much out of the material, as it was possible for any party to do. To be sure, much of its capital consisted of misrepresentations, that one by one were cleared away and left the Democratic party without one foot of good ground to stand on, but nevertheless, Democracy has made as much of the whole matter as any adverse party could, and much more than any honest party would have done. Starting out with the assertion that vast pecuniary interests were the governing inducements of those connected with the Administration, who were urging the propriety of annexation, the Democratic press revelled in its luscious lie, over the immense amount of territory, staked off for the President. When a Commission was proposed, the Democratic press again delighted its readers, with the announcement, that partizans of the movement, and personal friends of the President would be appointed, and that their charges would never see the light, because the report would necessarily be in favor of the Chief Executive. The names of the gentlemen appointed however, came like an electric shock over Democratic journalism. The Commission was evidently to be honest, upright and capable, and not a Democratic journal in the land has dared to intimate otherwise.

But what has become of that huge tract of land "staked off for Grant and Babcock." Not a rail nor a stake has been found, nor is any more mention made of it. The Commission has come and gone, and yet we fail to learn how many acres the President possesses. We say fail, because although the Commission has made a report, there were many gentlemen connected with that trip to San Domingo, who have done a fearful amount of correspondence—and some of whom are keeping it up amazingly well at present—who would not have waited for the report of the Commission, but would have enjoyed the luxury of sending home the fact of the discovery—if any had been made. But the whole charge has been allowed to drop, and when we recall the fierce tornado of wrath hurled on the Presidential head by these Democratic journals, when we remember the terrible excitement into which they lashed themselves and hoped to lash their readers, we can but admire the wonderful buoyancy of Democratic American journalism, that could pass through such a terrific storm of virtuous indignation and yet come up at last so smiling—and so defeated. We can imagine how in their disappointment, and while the prospect of defeat made every Democratic nerve twinge with pain, the speech of Mr. Sumner set them once more on their Democratic legs, to run another race of misrepresentation and abuse. They cared nothing for Mr. Sumner—positively hated him and his old record—but they regarded his effort as an apple of discord, rolled into the Republican party, and rejoiced accordingly.

When, however, the vote was taken on Mr. Sumner's resolutions, it was discovered that three Republican Senators voted in its favor. Democracy had staked its existence almost on the great and powerful influence of the Senator, and it found that that influence amounted to absolutely nothing when used to divide and sunder the Republican party. Still, with that hopefulness that so largely marks the party, Democracy kept firing its column broadsides, day after day, until the Message came. The President did not intend to do more than present the report of the Commission. Having done this much, he considered he had discharged his full duty, and proposed to leave the settlement of the question to the people. This was the unkindest cut of all, and it has left the Democracy powerless so far as the position it has heretofore assumed is regarded, and it will be forced to take some other method of attack. That it will do so, is beyond all doubt. Nor will it matter, that its next appearance on the offensive, shall be as void of truth as were its last charges; for truth has not been nor is it now, one of the Democratic attributes in any attacks made on the administration. But whatever plan may be adopted, the unwarranted and untruthful attacks that have lately been made and conclusively proven as false, are too fresh in the minds of our citizens, not to have full weight against believing any of the charges made by that party in the future.

If Democracy has done nothing else in the past ten years, it has at all events, proven itself utterly unworthy of confidence in any assertions it may advance. From first to last, it has gloried in misrepresentations, nor has it confined itself to misrepresenting the Republican party or the President. When it had nothing else to do, it arose, like its representative Wallace in the Senate of Pennsylvania, and made a violent effort to commend Democracy; and then like the same Democratic Senate turned around and proved that even its commendations of itself were false from beginning to end. The Republican party of the State of Pennsylvania, could have had no greater blessing conferred upon it, to give it unity of strength and purpose, than the fraudulent election of Dechert, whereby the State Senate became Democratic. That victory was the ruin of all the Democratic hopes for a successful Democratic campaign in 1872. From the outset the Senate has been revolutionary, and to-day it is defrauding the people, and stealing money in no wise honestly earned, out of the Treasury. And all this time Democratic journals of the State are mouthing about San Domingo, and Senator Sumner. They are unable to see the thefts daily going on before the eyes of every one by the Democratic Senate, but have been hunting, and still hunt in San Domingo for some rail or post on which is painted the name of "Grant" or "Babcock." We await the next phase of Democratic misrepresentation, knowing full well, that no matter when it comes or how it comes, it will only make the Republican cause stronger, and, if it be possible, fill the hearts of our citizens with a more intense disgust for Democracy, as expounded by the Democrats of the present day.

EDDY'S SEARCH;
OR,
A Brave Boy's Battle.

Dr. Bullet's "Private Retreat."

It was early in June, 1851. In one of the small, neatly furnished rooms of good Mrs. Brierly's boarding-house, at Poughkeepsie, was seated our hero, Eddy Burns.

He was a fair and handsome lad, fifteen years of age, with bright blue eyes, a noble forehead, fair hair, and resolute mouth. He was a brave boy, first in his class at school, and distinguished for his generosity and kindness of heart.

His home was at Riverton, some miles further up the river, but he was a student at Poughkeepsie, and it was now several weeks since he had seen his home and his mother.

His geography lay unheeded on his knees as he wove his boyish plans: how he would achieve wealth and fame, and make his mother proud of him.

He was only aroused from his reverie by the entrance of Mrs. Brierly. She held up two letters.

"From home, I guess, Eddy," she said.

Eddy's face glowed as he sprung up, receiving the letters.

"It's about time I had a letter from mother," he exclaimed, "One is from her. Who can have written the other? I'll read mother's first, any how."

"I'll just stay to hear if Mrs. Burns is well," remarked Mrs. Brierly. "How is she?"

The boy tore open the smaller of the two envelopes, and hurriedly perused his mother's letter.

And as he read the glow faded from his face, the smile from his lips. He read the letter to its close, and looked up at Mrs. Brierly with an expression of unutterable grief.

"What is it, Eddy?" she questioned anxiously.

The lad replied only by a moan.

"Dead?" cried Mrs. Brierly.

Eddy shook his head.

"Not dead," he sobbed, "but it's almost the same. You can read the letter, Mrs. Brierly. Oh, my mother! my mother!"

He sobbed aloud.

Mrs. Brierly caught up the letter from the floor to which it had fallen.

RIVERTON ON HUDSON, June 10th, 1851.

"MY DARLING SON: You must have wondered that I have not permitted your usual weekly visits home for the past month, and that I have written to you less frequently than usual. I am about to write you an explanation.

"Three years ago your father and I were the happiest couple in Riverton. We lived in our own house, a pretty little villa overlooking the river, and your father owned his factory which was near. The failure of an extensive firm with which my poor husband was connected hurled us down to poverty.

"About the time of my husband's failure, the California gold excitement became a fever in our vicinity. A successful miner returned to Riverton from the land of gold, and for days a portion of his wealth was displayed in our banker's window in the shape of a huge gold brick. Your father, smarting under his reverses, conceived the idea of going to California, and two years ago he went.

"Hart Burgoyne furnished him money for his venture. It was to the care of Hart Burgoyne my husband and your father commended us in the hour of his departure. It was Hart Burgoyne who attended him to New York, who paid his passage, and whose friendly face he last saw before setting out upon that ill-fated voyage.

"You know, Eddy, that your father died of fever in California, within a week of his landing at San Francisco.

"Hart Burgoyne was my lover, that I rejected for your father, but he was your father's truest friend, and has never borne me malice because I preferred another to him. He has lately renewed his suit to me, and urges me to become his wife. He has offered to make you his heir.

"You know how poor I am, Eddy. I have not the strength to work as I used. I am anxious that you should obtain an education. In short, Eddy, I have consented to marry Mr. Burgoyne. It is for your sake, my boy. Do not believe that any one can come between us—you and me. I respect Mr. Burgoyne—I honor and esteem him, but I have told him that I have no love to give him. My heart is with you, dear Eddy, and with my lost Richard. That first love was the great love of my life.

"We are to be married this morning—within an hour. I would have sent for you, but Mr. Burgoyne thought I had better not. We are to be married quietly in my little cottage parlor, and we will then walk up together to the villa to which your father took me as his bride.

"Come home to us on Saturday. Come with a light heart and a smiling face. Always your loving mother, though now for the last time I write my name

JULIA BURNS."

Mrs. Brierly read this letter through. At its conclusion, she exclaimed:

"I don't see anything to fret at, Eddy. One would think your mother was dead. What is the matter? Don't you like Mr. Burgoyne?"

"No—no!" cried Eddy, with a shudder, "and he don't like me."

"What's done can't be undone," continued Mrs. Brierly. "I'd make the best of the matter."

"I will make the best of it, Mrs. Brierly," returned Eddy. "Poor mother! She married Mr. Burgoyne for my sake, and she shall never know that her marriage has cost me a pang."

Eddy took up the second letter, opened and read it aloud, while upon his countenance slowly gathered an expression of horror.

The second letter was from Hart Burgoyne:

"RIVERTON, June 12th, 1851.

"MASTER EDWARD BURNS: As you will understand, by the letter written by your mother the other day, Mrs. Julia Burns is now my wife. We were married on the morning of the 10th.

"During the evening of the day on which we were married, I was called from home for an hour on business. On my return, I was met by my bride, who was in a state of frightful excitement. That excitement increased at sight of me, and a terrible scene ensued, in which the poor creature made an attack upon my life.

"I summoned Dr. Bullet, and he, with other physicians, pronounced her dangerously insane. No one was with her in my absence. The cause of the attack is supposed to be excitement, brought on by finding herself in the same rooms where she had spent the first years of her first marriage. By medical advice, I caused poor Julia to be removed to Dr. Bullet's private retreat for the insane, where she now is, under the Doctor's wise and skilful treatment. Her recovery is more than doubtful.

"I advise you to remain at Poughkeepsie until your school vacation, when you will come to my house, which is to be your future home. You have my sympathy in this affliction. Truly yours,

"HART BURGOYNE."

"The letter fell from Eddy's nerveless hands. There were no tears now, but instead a look of stern resolve. Mrs. Brierly was startled as she encountered his burning glance.

"Insane on her bridal day!" exclaimed the good woman. "What an awful blow for you, my poor boy!"

"Insane!" cried Eddy, "I don't believe it!"

"Not believe it! Why, here it is in black and white!"

A spasm of pain passed over Eddy's features, but he utter no moan and shed no tear.

"There is a mystery here I can't understand," he said. "All I know is that my mother is in trouble, and I am going to her. I must see her! I shall have just time to catch the three o'clock boat!"

He set about his preparations for departure at once, bade Mrs. Brierly good-by, and hurried to the steamboat landing, arriving just in time to catch the up river boat.

About an hour later he disembarked at Riverton, and swiftly took his way up the steep street to the bluff upon which the Burgoyne villa was situated.

The house stood back from the street. Eddy opened the small iron gate and passed into the shaded recesses of the lawn, hurrying to the house. He ascended the steps, when he discerned a man seated upon the verandah.

Eddy recognized Hart Burgoyne, and made his way to him without causing himself to be announced.

Mr. Burgoyne was smoking a cigar, but at Eddy's approach, started, and arose, his face changing color.

"You here?" he ejaculated.

"Yes, I am here," responded Eddy, coolly.

The man and the boy faced each other in a mute antagonism.

Hart Burgoyne was a tall, well-proportioned, portly man, forty years of age, with a florid complexion, and a prominent Roman nose, who bore the reputation of an honest, upright gentleman of great wealth.

"I told you to remain at Poughkeepsie till your school term closed," began Mr. Burgoyne irritably.

"I know you did, sir," returned Eddy respectfully. "But my mother is in trouble."

"Sit down, boy. I can see that the news has been a shock to you," said Mr. Burgoyne, in a more affable tone. "You cannot imagine how I have suffered!"

Eddy's heart softened toward him.

"Is mother really so bad off, sir, as you stated in your letter?" he asked in a faltering voice.

"Bad off, my poor Eddy. She is raving mad."

Eddy shivered

"Don't you know what made her crazy?" he asked.

"No. I wish I did. We were married in the morning, and she came home with me. We talked together, spending the day very pleasantly on the verandas. In the evening I was called out on business. Julia went into the library. The housekeeper say, that no one called during my absence, and that Julia saw no one. Yet when I came in, an hour later, my wife flew at me like a wild-cat. She tried to kill me. The truth is she did not know me—"

"Not know you, sir?"

"No. And she flew at Dr. Bullet also."

"Then there was no positive cause for this sudden attack, sir."

"None, unless the sight of the house to which she came as a bride sixteen years ago. Everything is as Burns arranged it. The sight of her old home where she had been so happy was, no doubt, too much for her sensitive soul."

"Mother is at the private mad-house?" asked Eddy, after a pause.

"Yes, I had to send her there."

"I suppose I can see her?" asked Eddy.

"You must ask Dr. Bullet, my boy. He can judge best of the effect your presence would have on his patient."

"Then I will walk out to the asylum," declared Eddie. "I can never eat nor sleep till I have seen my mother."

"Well, come back after you have seen her," said Mr. Burgoyne. "But be sure to be back by six, our supper time."

Eddy took his leave

"There is some mystery in all this," he whispered. "Some dreadful mystery. And I must know what it is! Now for Dr. Bullet's.

About a mile from the village of Riverton, upon a lonely country road, stood Dr. Bullet's private asylum for the insane.

The grounds were separated from the road by a high stone wall. The house—square, three stories in height, built of red brick, and lighted within by narrow, grated windows—was some distance from the road, in the midst of a small pine grove, which screened the asylum from the curious glances of casual passers-by.

The double iron gates were open upon this bright June afternoon, and Eddy passed unchallenged into the grounds, and, with a sinking heart, he ascended the steps of the high porch and rang the door-bell loudly.

Presently the bolts securing the door upon the inner side were withdrawn, and a coarse-looking fellow, one of the keepers of the institution evidently, presented himself

"Well, what's wanted?" demanded this person roughly.

"I wish to see Dr. Bullet," replied Eddy.

"To see Dr. Bullet, eh? The doctor's busy. He's got no time to waste on boys"

The keeper made a movement to shut the door in Eddy's face. As quick as a flash, the boy slipped across the threshold and into the hall.

"Tell Dr. Bullet I desire to see him," he said coolly. "I shall stay here until I do see him. You can give him my name—Edward Burns."

"Burns!" repeated the discomfited keeper. "Burns, eh? Well, I'll tell the doctor. Seeing you're inside, you can step into the reception room."

He closed, bolted and barred the outer door, and sullenly ushered Eddy into a small, dreary waiting room at one side of the holl. He then hurried away in quest of the doctor.

Nearly half an hour elapsed before any-one appeared. Now and then a muffled shriek or long-drawn moan reached his ears

Unable to bear longer the suspense of waiting, he touched a bell-pull and rang a loud peal, the jangle of which reached even his ears.

The noise had scarcely died away when a pompous, portly personage entered the waiting-room.

Eddy recognized him at first glance as Dr. Bullet.

He was a hard-faced man, past middle-age, with keen eyes, a low forehead, a cleanly shaven face, rendered peculiarly unpleasant by a sanctimonious expression which contrasted strangely with his sinister features. The Doctor had formerly kept a private insane asylum in New Jersey, but he had fallen into an ill-repute, and it having been proved against him that sane people had been incarcerated in his gloomy cells, he had been obliged to abandon that field of operations, and had re-established his asylum at Riverton on the Hudson. He had now been at Riverton some years, and was regarded in the village as an upright and honorable man having, it seemed, left his former reputation behind him when he changed his residence.

"Ah, Eddy Burns!" exclaimed the Doctor, in his mild bland voice, extending his hand. "How do you do, Eddy? How you grow! Glad to see you, my fine fellow."

But Eddy did not seem to see the outstretched hand. He certainly did not offer to take it. There was a frown on his brows, and his lips were set together in an expression which would have rendered the smiling Doctor uneasy had he seen it upon an older face.

"I have heard from Mr. Burgoyne that my mother is here," the boy said calmly. "I have come to see her, Dr. Bullet."

The expression on the Doctor's face changed to one of uneasiness, which, swiftly as it passed, was not unnoticed by Eddy.

"Yes, ah, yes," said the Doctor smoothly. "You have come to see your mother? Very laudable—very. I am sorry though, Master Burns, that I must refuse your request. Mrs. Burgoyne is in a critical state. The least excitement, such as the sight of you might occasion her, might prove fatal."

"Would she know me?" asked Eddy.

"I think not. She is a raving maniac—knows no one—has attempted to commit suicide. But the sight of you might strike a chord of memory, and I should not dare to risk it. Ah, this is a terrible affliction to Mrs. Burgoyne's friends, my lad."

"You think then, Doctor," he asked, "that it would excite my mother, if she were to see me?"

"Think? I know it. She might tear you to pieces!"

"I cannot think so, Doctor," declared Eddy. "Even in her madness, she would not harm me."

"My judgment must decide the matter, Master Burns," said the Doctor stiffly.

"I beg your pardon, Doctor," said Eddy, humbly enough; "but I beg you to let me look in upon her through the grating at her door. I won't speak a word. Only let me see her once more!"

"It is impossible, Master Burns—"

"Oh, don't say that!" cried Eddy. "I am all she has in the wide world, Doctor—"

"She has her husband."

Eddy made a gesture of despair.

"She don't love him as she loves me," he said. "You don't know how she loves me, sir. She has worked hard to keep me at school since father died—she married Mr. Burgoyne because she thought he would be a father to me. My heart is breaking to see her!"

"I regret, Master Burns—"

"You refuse then?" cried the boy. "I tell you I must see her! My father left her in my care. I am her protector—"

"Mr. Burgoyne," said the Doctor, "is her guardian now, and the only one I can recognize. Go home to your step-father. Your mother is in good hands, and you can do no good in hanging about and acting in this highly improper style."

Eddy felt insulted, but he could not abandon his project without a last endeavor to effect it.

"I am only a boy, Doctor Bullet," he said, "but I know that there must be some one in the land more powerful than you, who can permit me to see my mother. I will see a lawyer—"

"That is big talk for a boy of our size?" sneered the Doctor. "Your mother was committed to my asylum in accordance with the law made and provided for such cases. Any lawyer will tell you that no one can give you a permit to see a mad woman, when her physician declare she must be secluded."

Eddy felt the hopelessness of his case. He had no powerful friends—no money. And he felt sure that Mr. Burgoyne and Dr. Bullet were his enemies, and that some terrible mystery was connected with his mother.

"I am only a boy, Doctor," said Eddy at last sorrowfully, but with a brave look shining in his eyes, "but I have a man's courage. You may hear from me again."

He bowed gravely and went out.

With a heavy heart he moved down the graveled walk to the gate.

He was determined not to abandon his mother, let her madness be as dangerous as it might, but how could he compass his object?

He had nearly reached the iron gates, and was moving with a lottering step, when he looked back at the grim asylum. No one was looking at him.

Taking advantage of the opportunity thus offered, Eddy slipped into a by-path, and sought the shelter of some shrubbery near the wall. Here he flung himself on the ground, to await patiently the coming of darkness.

It was now about six o'clock of the long summer evening.

How the twilight lingered! Eddy, peering out, saw one of the keepers lock the great iron gates at an early hour, but the old town clock at Riverton had struck the hour of ten before the lights and the noises died out of the asylum.

It was nearly eleven o'clock when Eddy, cramped and tired, crept out from his concealment.

He moved slowly around the building again, scanning the upper windows. No light gleamed from them, no sound of life, save now and then a moan, came from within those dreary cells.

"Can it be she is not up there?" thought the boy, a cold sweat starting to his brow. "Can they have put her into a dungeon?"

Around and around the building he slowly circled, a wild prayer in his heart that if his mother were in one of the upper rooms, some providential impulse might lead her to look out.

His prayer was answered. A slender figure suddenly appeared, a pair of hands were clasped upon the window ledge, and a pale face, half hidden by a mass of floating hair, was pressed against the iron bars, looking upward at the glowing, star-lit sky.

Eddy's heart gave one throb, and through his pale lips quivered the words:

"My mother!"

The vision lingered but a moment at the open window, then withdrawing itself. At its disappearance, Eddy sprang up.

"She did not look dangerously mad," he whispered. "I must see her—speak to her."

He dared not call to her, and bring discovery upon him. He must work quietly.

Marking the window at which the vision had appeared, he saw that one of the heavy branches of a tall pine-tree swept close against its bars.

He crept to the tree, climbing its trunk like a squirrel, and gaining the shelter of its densest branches. He was soon upon a level with the second story of the asylum.

What a sight it was that met his gaze within!

A small, whitewashed cell, that might have belonged to a prison. An open grating in the door, and the sound of footfalls in the corridor, told Eddy that supervision was exercised over the inmates by night as well as by day.

In the narrow cell a woman was kneeling at her prayers. The soft starlight drifted in upon her. She looked sad, but the fair, noble face had in it no token of an unthroned intellect.

"Perhaps she has quiet spells," thought Eddy, scarcely venturing to breathe. "Mr. Burgoyne and the Doctor said she was a 'raving maniac.' How am I to attract her attention without alarming the sentinel in the hall?"

He moved upon the branch. The rustling aroused the kneeling woman, and she raised her head. The next moment her head drooped again, lower than before.

Eddy, grasping the bar with one hand, softly tapped on the window ledge.

In an instant the head was uplifted, with the eagerness of a startled deer.

Eddy gently raised his head within view.

"Mother!" he called softly—so softly that his voice might have been taken for the murmur of the wind. "Mother! Hush! It is I—Eddy!"

The whispered words of Eddy penetrated to the hearing of the inmate of the lonely prison cell. She started to her feet, and looked wildly around.

"I must be going mad indeed!" she murmured, pressing her hands above her heart, as if to still its throbbings.

Again the boy's fingers tapped softly upon the lowest grating, and again Eddy's voice called softly:

"Mother! It is really I—your own Eddy! Come to the window!"

A low cry broke from the lips of Mrs. Burns. Then she pressed her face close against the rough iron bars.

The boy shrank among the branches.

"Eddy! Oh, Eddy! Are you here?"

"I am here, mother!" he said. "Don't cry out, or some one will hear us."

He crept nearer to her, and pressed his face against the bars, his cheek touching hers.

"She caught at Eddy's hand, she kissed his quivering lips again and again.

"O my brave boy!" she whispered. "I never expected to see you again."

"Poor mother!" said Eddy, "You might have known I would come to you, if they had taken you to Madagascar!" The above we publish as a specimen chapter: but the continuation of this story will be found in the New York Ledger. Ask for the number dated April 22, which can be had at any newsoffice, you can have the Ledger mailed to you for one year by sending three dollars to Robert Bonner, publisher, New York. The Ledger pays more for original contributions than any other periodical in the world. It will publish none but the very, very best. Its moral tone is the purest, and the circulation the largest. Everybody who takes it is happier for it.

The President's Message.

The Philadelphia Ledger, a paper utterly devoid of politics, but generally evincing a Democratic leaning, speaks as follows of President Grant's San Domingo message:

The plain, straightforward narrative in which the President tells the story of his first knowledge of the desire of the Dominican people for annexation to the United States, shows how clear and honorable his part of the record is, and equally honorable and infinitely to his credit is the patient forbearance with which he has endured bitter criticism upon his judgment as an officer, and personal attacks upon his integrity as a man, knowing all the time that the facts, when given to the people, would vindicate both.

DIED FROM STRANGULATION.

Nothing can be more fearful to contemplate than such a death as is brought about by strangulated hernia or rupture. Who ever has seen the victim of it, writhing in agony, will bear us out in our opinion. But there is no need of any one exposing himself to such a dreadful alternative, for by the timely application of a suitable truss the rupture can be retained in its proper place and in many cases entirely cured and in all of them relieved. Remember we have said by a suitable truss—one-half the bandages sold under that name are not worth the leather which is wasted in covering them, and but illy adapted for the use intended. Another great evil is in the application of trusses. They should not be put on like the hoops of a barrel would be by a man unskilled in cooperage, but they should be put on by a person having a knowledge, not only of the appliances themselves, but also acquainted with the human organism, and especially the anatomy of hernia. What is the comparative expense of a few dollars to that security which one feels in the comfort of a well fitting truss, and besides trusses of as low a price can be had at the establishment of those who are accustomed to fitting them every day as elsewhere.

DR. KEYSER, of 167 Liberty street, has every needful appliance and at every price.

THE FROST KING.

We have now obtained one of the finest Soda apparatuses this side of New York City, from which we can dispense the purest Soda Water in the city, as all of our Syrups ARE MADE FROM FRUIT, and we use only the purest Fruit Juices.

We also have just received a fresh supply of Kissengen, Vichy, Blue Lick, Saratoga, High Rock, and Congress Waters, that we can sell, wholesale or retail, at the lowest prices. Remember the place.

EXHAUSTION.

Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations, and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be forearmed against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia, and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative employed in medicinal practice.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 296 PENN STREET.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, April 10, 1871.

The monthly report of the Titusville Herald, showing a large decrease in the production during the month of March, some 800 bbls, stiffened the market considerably, particularly in the oil regions, and in the early part of the day business is reported as having been very lively on the creek; in the afternoon, however, it weakened, and the advance, which was attempted to be established in the forenoon, was almost, if not entirely lost. The Herald admits an increase in stock of 30,000 bbls—the general opinion here is that it is much larger, and there are not a few who doubt very much the correctness of this same journal in regard to the falling off in the production. Some are inclined to believe that there was a falling off; others, while admitting that there has been a decrease in some localities, contend that there has been a sufficient increase in others to balance the account. So far as we can learn, however, there are none who are will accept the statement of the Herald, either in regard to the production or stocks as being correct; it is contended that it is underestimated in both cases, and that the report, as a whole, is gotten up to advance the interests of the producers and holders of oil.

CRUDE.

But a single sale reported, one barge at 10⅛. This shows an advance of ⅛@¼, as compared with Saturday, but it is very doubtful whether this sale could be duplicated. Seller till July nominal at 10⅛; buyer 11; seller all year, 10⅝@10¾, buyer, 12⅛.

CATTLE.

Add to these 38 loads of western stock about 3 loads of country cattle, and we have in all 41 cars against 58 last week. Notwithstanding the receipts show a falling off 17 loads as compared with last week, the market was very dull and heavy and in many instances, prices ruled lower; this may seem a little singular yet it is, nevertheless, a fact. All the drovers reported trade very slow, and we have no doubt there were at least five car loads left over unsold; there was no demand for shipment, and the butchers did not take as many as usual which may be attributed to the fact that many of them bought a two week's supply last week. Furthermore, the average quality was not as good as it has been recently, the great proportion of the offerings consisting of the commoner grades, including a large number of bulls; prime butchers stock brought about last week's prices, but there is no question but what the market was very sluggish for all the different grades.

Hazlewood & Blackstock had two car loads of very fine butchers stock, so pronounced by Barney Grey, and Barney knows; these were sold at 7¾@8 cts. Bulls were very dull with several lots left over unsold; there are but few buyers for this kind of stock, and the number seems to be growing less. They may do for Chicago and New York butchers, but Pittsburgh butchers want something better. Fresh cows are reported dull with sales at $40@80.

E. Katz reports one load of common stock from Chicago, at 4@6½ cts.

Rothchilds & Zeigler report 3 car loads of mixed western stock, at 6¼@7½—1 load left over.

M. Kraus 33 head good to prime butchers stock, at 6@7,60.

Jacob Needy reports 3 loads of fair to prime Ohio stock, at 6@7½.

S. Marks & Bro. 4 loads of Chicago cattle sold at 6@7¾—car left over.

Shamberg & Bro. report 4 loads gave two loads away—2 loads left over.

Greenwald & Kahn 3 loads of mixed western stock, at 6@7¾ cts.

S. Kaufman had 3 left over from last week; sold 1 to-day 2 left over for next week. Reports business brisk.

Snee & Chamberlain one load of good stock steers averaging 875, at 5,60.

Keefer & Beyer 30 head good to prime butchers stock, at 6½@7¾.

Hazlewood & Blackstock 32 head prime to extra steers averaging 1,250 to 1,350, at 7½@8 cts; 16 head bulls unsold.

Jas. Hanlin reports 16 head of cows and steers from Washington Co., at 4@6 cts.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply was again light this week, the whole number reaching 560; one lot of 102 was not sold, the seller being unable to realize what he considered they were worth, so that there were only 462 sold. With this very small supply, as might be expected, prices were maintained, but dealers generally reported the market slow, and if there had been even an ordinary supply, prices would no doubt have ruled lower. Two small bunches of spring lambs, the first of the season, brought from $1,50 to $2,50 per head. Prime clipped Sheep may be quoted in a retail way at 5½@6 cts and prime wooled at 7@7½.

Jacob Keefer, 60 mixed sheep from Mercer Co., sold at $4 per head to 7½ cts per lb; 7 spring lambs at $11 for the lot.

Stouffer & Walters sold 40 spring lambs at $2,25—averaging 35 lbs; 93 head mixed clipped sheep at 5@6 cts.

Isaac McNeese reports 50 head of wooled sheep from Butler Co. at $2,50@6,00 per head.

Jacob Rinn sold on commission 85 commonish wooled sheep at an average of 6 cts.

John Drum, 98 head of good to prime wooled at 6@7½; 11 scalawags at $2 per head.

Emerick & Co had 102 head of nice clipped sheep, averaging about 100 lbs—unable to get what they were considered worth.

HOGS.

Continue very dull and prices are lower; and even at the decline the butchers are buying very sparingly, which is nearly always the case at the approach of warm weather. We now quote in a retail way at 7@7½ cts.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with 5 feet 10 inches in the channel; cloudy with indications of rain during part of the day, but last evening it cleared up again. Heavy fog in the morning.

There is no improvement to note in business. Freights for all points continue scarce, and boatmen experience considerable difficulty in picking up a trip.

Passengers and shippers should bear in mind that the Kate Putnam will depart for Nashville to-day.

The R. W. Skillinger and St. Charles arrived yesterday. The Skillinger, as usual, had a big trip, including, among other items of freight 160 tons metal. She got off again last night.

All steamers having iron ore or metal for this port will be obliged hereafter to put it off at the lower end of the wharf. This is a wise movement and should have been adopted some time ago. It is hoped that the wharfmaster will see that it is strictly enforced, and steamboat Captains should make a note of this and act accordingly.

The Julia No. 2 arrived from Zanesville with an excellent trip and will return to-day as usual at 4 P. M.

The Arlington is due from Cincinnati to-day and will return as usual to-morrow, leaving promptly at 12 o'clock. Passengers and shippers will bear in mind that Capt. Dan Moore is very strict about getting out at the time advertised.

The Exchange, Capt. A. C. McCallum, with Mr. J. A. Dales in the office, is filling up steadily and will soon be ready to take her departure for St. Louis. She offers superior accommodations to passengers.

The Grand Lake, J. S. McDonald, and Shannon were at Memphis on Sunday, and the Juniata left Cincinnati for this port the same day.

The Wild Duck and barges, Capt. J. W. Anawalt, as will be seen by card, are announced for St. Louis forthwith. Capt. Anawalt expects to get off during the latter part of the week.

The Bellevernon and Great Republic arrived at St. Louis on Sunday.

The Rover, of Grey's "Iron Line," is announced for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi. Capt. Greenlee has fixed on Thursday as the day of leaving.

The H. C. Yeager, Messenger and Lady Lee were at Cairo on Saturday.

The Brill, Nashville to Pittsburgh, was at Louisville on Sunday.

The May Lowry arrived at New Orleans on Tuesday of last week with 700 bales of cotton.

A St. Louis paper says the Yeager left there with 1,700 tons on her recent trip to New Orleans.

MEMORANDA OF JULIA NO. 2.—Friday, Morning, April 7th, left Zanesville on time; met the Ajax at McConnellsville; Indianola, Stone's Riffle; J. H. Best, Hooksburg, Marietta, Saturday 8th, towboats A. Baker, Samson No. 2 and Coal City passed down while laying at Marietta. Met Stella at Marietta Island; Fearless, same place; Diamond, Bull Creek, Lioness No. 2, Cow Creek; Granite State, St. Mary's; Eagle, Cochransville; Reindeer, same place; Grey Hound, Sardis; John Gilmore, Bearsville; J. F. Dravo, Buck Hill Bottom; R. R. Hudson, Captina. Sunday, 9th, Carrie Brooks, Ironsides, Wheeling Island; Coal Bluff, New Cumberland; four boats below Sunfish in the night.

Respectfully Yours,
JOHN N. LYONS
MILT. McLAUGHLIN, } Pilots.

—The St. Louis Republican, of Saturday, says: We yesterday evening received a note from Capt. Thomas B. Rhodes, giving the pleasing news that the ice has broken up in Lake Pepin, and that boats can now pass without interruption through to St. Paul. Business up the river will now be more brisk.

—A late New Orleans paper says: Trade has become remarkably dull in the tributaries and many boats are compelled to withdraw. Rates are low in the upper river trades. In the Red, Ouachita and Arkansas rivers there is firmness in rates on freight.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

ON A COMPLETED ROAD.

(FREE OF U. S. TAX,)

At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investment with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these Bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock at par at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share of any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these Bonds returns 9½ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of 20 per cent. in price for reinvestment.

All marketable securities taken in exchange free of commission and express charges.

SAVE FUEL,

Wellman Patent Reflector

STOVE AND GRATE.

Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

Y. M. C. A.—Free Concert by the celebrated Allegheny Quartette, at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms, Thursday evening, April 13th.

An Alarm of fire was sounded from box 13, about five o'clock yesterday morning. It was occasioned by a burning flue in Philo Hall.

Assault and Battery.—Oath was made before Alderman McAdams yesterday by Elizabeth Kerr charging Mrs. O'Neil with assault and battery. The parties reside at Soho. A warrant was issued.

Airing.—Some of our champion oarsmen of the Pittsburgh Barge Club were out yesterday in their beautiful six-oared barge, Naiad, stretching their muscles and getting them in trim for the summer's work.

Carpets at Auction.—A large sale of remnants, full lengths and made up carpets, in Brussels, three-ply and Ingrain, will take place this Tuesday at 2 o'clock at A. Leggate's Auction House, No. 159 Federal street.

Struck with a Poker.—Anna Degnell made an information before Alderman McAdams, yesterday charging John McCafferty with assault and battery. She alleges that the defendant struck her over the head with a poker. Warrant issued.

Hugh Turner, Jr., who was so dangerously injured, a few days ago, by the falling of a mass of slate in a pit on the Monongahela river, in which he was engaged as a miner, died Sunday morning, at the residence of his parents, in Wilkinsburg.

False Alarm.—The alarm of fire shortly before one o'clock this morning was false. It came from box 46, corner of Pike and Thirteenth street, but revealed no sign of a conflagration. The firemen were out and came home again—in a good humor, perhaps.

Rev. J. H. Bell, Pastor of Allen Chapel, A. M. E. Church, Arthur street, writes us as follows: Messrs. Editors, please give space in the GAZETTE for a vote of sincere thanks that I wish to present to the ladies of Allen Chapel and all those who helped them to get that neat suit of clothes they gave me April 10th. May the great Head of the Church bless them and comfort them in all their troubles in this life, and in death give them a home in heaven. The Committee of Ladies were: Mrs. Rosanna Irvins, Mrs. Ann Coster, Mrs. Priscilla Winston, Mrs. Viana Lucus, Mrs. Jane Hunter.

Personal.

Mr. W. P. HARRISON, of Philadelphia, the well-known tobacco merchant, is in this city on business. Mr. Harrison will call on our wholesale jobbers to-day, when we hope it will be to their advantage to give him their orders for his celebrated smoking brands of tobacco. He is also agent of the well-known R. W. Oliver's Plug.

Carelessness Censured.

The Coroner's jury in the case of Leonard Wendle, whose death was caused by injuries received in being run over by a train of cars on the Pennsylvania Railroad near the outer depot: Leonard Wendle came to his death in the Twelfth ward, near Twenty-eighth street, on April 7th, by being run over by a freight or coal train, at Armstrong & Co's., local siding, from injuries received on Monday, April 3d, through negligence in the authorities in not providing bells and proper signals on their trains while shifting, &c., and running trains at a faster rate of speed than the city ordinance allows or provides.

Finished.

The Connellsville Railroad was completed yesterday afternoon. A party of Pittsburghers, with President Hughart, went out to section 96 to see the closing ceremonies,—the last rail laid and the last spike driven home. News was received in the city of the finishing stroke about four o'clock and occasioned general enthusiasm among all classes. Was it not a singular coincidence that the anniversary of a day which brought desolation and sorrow to Pittsburgh, should be signalized by the completion of that from which is argued so much for the future prosperity and greatness of our iron city.

Fire Clay Pipes.

We call the attention of those who may be constructing sewers, have defective flues, or ill-drawing chimneys to the advertisement of Mr. Henry Collins, which appears in another column. Mr. Collins has a large and varied assortment of fire clay water pipes, chimney flues and chimney tops, which have been made out of the very best material and properly burned. They are of all sizes, and every variety of shape, and no matter how diversified the wants of any may be, who require anything in his line, they can be satisfactorily supplied. Besides, Mr. Collins is a most pleasant gentleman to deal with, and sells at very reasonable rates. Those in need of anything in his line, should, by all means, give him a call, as they will most certainly find his stock to be of the very best quality, and as cheap as any other offered in the market.

After the usual preliminary business had been transacted, the President announced the subject for discussion—"The Teacher Teaching."

Remarks were then made by Messrs. W. H. Knox, D. Kerr, W. McIntire and Dr. John G. Brown.

After some unimportant business had been transacted, the Business Committee announced the following subject for discussion for next meeting: "The Importance of Memorizing Scripture in the Sabbath School."

The meeting then adjourned, after prayer and benediction by Rev. Mr. Brown.

Explanation.

EDITORS GAZETTE—Dear Sirs: I observe in last Sunday's Leader certain statements reflecting upon Mr. John S. Robb, one of our Representatives at Harrisburg. I desire to say to the public through your columns that the whole statement is basely false, and that Mr. Robb has never asked me for any money on this or any other account. I have never at any time agreed to give him any money for any purpose whatever, nor to my knowledge has Captain Young nor any one else for him or for me. The whole matter is a base and mean fabrication.

A. B. HAYDEN,
Jury Commissioner.

The above statement of Mr. Hayden, so far as relates to me, is true in all respects. And I would further state that I have not spoken to Mr. Robb since his election until to-day, and that I have not had a letter or any other communication with him since that time, nor has anyone for me. I have never at any time spoken or made in conversation any such statements as are in the Leader of Sunday last. I pronounce the statement above referred to as false and malicious in all its particulars, and the "gentleman" referred to in the Leader tells what he knows to be false and unfounded.

JOHN YOUNG, JR.,
Jury Commissioner.

Sheep Stealing Dog Shot.

Messrs. Walters, Stouffer and Keefer are drovers hailing from Butler county, and, in visiting our market with their stock, as they do every week, it is their custom to put up at the hostelrie of mine host Steakley, about two miles outside the limits of Allegheny City, on Saturday night, and remain there till Monday morning, when they drive their stock into the city. On last Saturday night they put up there as usual with their droves of sheep, and all went well till sometime between the hours of dark and daylight they heard a terrific racket in the stock-yard, and, without waiting to don their clothes, they hastened out and found one of those pests to farmer and drover, a sheep stealing dog, committing sad havoc among their flocks, he having already killed three of their finest sheep. Fortunately one of them, on starting out, had provided himself with a revolver, and on coming up with the cause of the commotion fired three shots into the dog, putting him beyond the possibility of killing any more sheep. The men then returned to the house, but after a time one of them thought he would go and drag the dog from among the sheep, and when he got to the fold he found that the dog had been resuscitated by some means and carried off one of the finest lambs in the flock. He then made up his mind that if he ever killed another sheep stealing dog he would "kill him dead."

AND WHEREAS, It is difficult to change a custom like this except by some preconcerted movement; therefore,

Resolved, That Councils recommend to both landlords and tenants in this city, that by mutual consent they extend for one additional month, all leases which are to terminate on April 1st, and hereafter that they make all their leases expire on the 1st day of May. Read three times and passed. C. C. concur in the action of S. C.

Also, A further supplement to an act concerning streets and sewers in the city of Pittsburgh, authorizing the erection of bridges, accompanied by the following resolution:

Mr. S. J. WAINWRIGHT moved the reconsideration of action on the 33d street sewer, and that the matter be referred to the Street Committee. Passed.

THE WATER WORKS.

Mr. LLOYD presented the Report of the Superintendent of the Water Works for the year 1870. Report accepted and ordered to be printed once in the official papers.

Also, the Report of the Assessor of Water works for the year 1870. Report received and ordered to be printed once in the official papers.

Also, a resolution for the purchase of a smoke consumer for the Water Works, at the first basin.

Mr. LLOYD in connection with this stated that the smoke from the Water Works was injuring the new High School building, and that the directors of that institution had offered to pay half the expense—$6000. Something will have to be done, either an additional smoke stack erected, which could be done for about $1,500, or let the School Committee take care of themselves. In either case, the tax payers will have to pay the cost.

Also, the Report of the Sub-committee appointed to enquire as to the best means of consuming the smoke from the Water Works, together with the proposition of the Pennsylvania Smoke Consuming Company, offering to put up smoke consumers for $10,000, and guaranteeing them to last for ten years.

Mr. SHIPTON was opposed to the whole thing, as he thought the Central Board was entirely too lavish in their expenditures of money.

Mr. ISAAC JONES moved that the communication in reference to the smoke consumer be laid on the table. The vote being a tie, the motion was lost.

Mr. LITTEL moved that the motion be postponed for one month.

Mr. THOMPSON moved to amend by publishing the proposition in the official papers.

Mr. LLOYD here withdrew the resolution.

Mr. MORROW was opposed to the expenditure of $5,000 or $10,000 in an experiment, and asked why, if the machine had all the merit claimed for it, the President of the company did not erect one at his coke works on Second avenue? He was opposed to the city's incurring any expense, either for the publication of the proposition or for the erection of the consumer, until after its efficacy had been fully established.

Mr. KEHEW, a member of the sub-committee, explained that if the experiment did not succeed, the city would be at no expense, the Company proposing in that event to put up and remove the apparatus at its own expense.

Mr. ISAAC JONES moved to amend by referring back to the Water Committee, with instructions to investigate and report to Councils. Amendment accepted and the motion as amended passed.

Also, a petition for hay scales at the Fifth avenue market house. Referred to Market Committee.

REPORT ON MARKET SITES.

Mr. S. J. WAINWRIGHT, from the Committee on Market Sites, made the following report:

GENTLEMEN:—The Market Committee would respectfully report that the matter of new sites for Market Houses in the new wards, which was referred back to them by Councils with the various bids they had before them.

The Committee, after spending several days in examining the different sites offered, recommended the purchase of sixteen lots from Mrs. Elizabeth Denny, situate on the corner of Penn avenue and Thirty-second street, Sixteenth ward. This property comprizes two tiers of lots, fronting on Penn avenue and Thirty-second street, with an alley between the two tiers. The lots are each twenty-four feet front and one hundred feet deep to the alley. The lots fronting on Penn avenue cost $3,300 each, and those fronting on Liberty street $3,100 each. This comprises one-half of the block at the Thirty-second street end, and will cost $51,200. The lease of a small portion of the property shall be removed at the expense of Mrs. Denny.

The Committee would also recommend to accept the sites offered by Mrs Kitty Roup and — Reimer, both these sites will be donated to the city by the owners free of all incumbrances. The Roup property comprises one acre, and is situated at the junction of Ellsworth and Centre avenues. The Reimer property consists of about one acre fronting on Frankstown avenue, and a street, name not given.

Your Committee believe it will not be long before both of these sites will be required for market purposes to accommodate the large population of this vast territory.

PROPOSITION OF MRS. KITTY ROUP.

If the city of Pittsburgh will accept from me a piece of ground hereinafter described, on which to locate a market house and to be used for market purposes, I will donate to said city for that purpose one acre of ground in the Twentieth ward of that city, out of that triangular piece of ground bounded by Ellsworth avenue, Centre avenue and the first street below the intersection of, and connecting those streets.

Witness my hand and seal this 10th day of March, A. D. 1871.

KITTY ROUP. [SEAL]

Attest: John R. BAUM.

Mr. SMITH also presented an ordinance for the same. The petitions were received and the ordinance read three times and passed.

Mr. SMITH, petition for opening and locating Liberty street, from Thirty-third to Hazlett street. Referred to Survey Committee.

Mr. BARR, resolution instructing Water Committee to continue the laying of water pipes on Roup street, from Ellsworth avenue to Fifth avenue. Referred to Water Committee with power to act.

THE STREET DEPARTMENT.

Mr. MORGAN presented the report of the Street Committee, showing expenditures for the month of March to be $6,397 33.

The report was received and filed and then the following ordinances mentioned in the report were presented and disposed of as follows:

Ordinance granting the Jones & Nimick Manufacturing Company privilege to construct an iron bridge over Relief alley.

Mr. ARTHURS objected to the passage of the ordinance because the matter was in Court and second because the neighbors remonstrated against it.

Mr. MORGAN explained that it would not be any obstruction, and that the alley was a public thoroughfare and there was very little travel over it. It was only used by two or three persons who owned stables there.

Mr. ARTHURS contended this was a mistake. That the alley was a private one and had been improved by private subscription. It was now in Court—and as "Ceasar had it, councils should await Ceasar's decision."

Mr. MORGAN—He's dead. (Laughter.)

After some further discussion a vote was taken on the final passage of the ordinance, and the Chair being unable to decide, the yeas and nays were called by Mr. Arthurs, with the following result:

Yeas—Messrs. Beymer, Booth, Caskey, Chalmers, Duff, John Fleming, Froelich, Hambel, Evan Jones, J. H. Jones, Lageman, Lappan, McKim, Morgan, H. W. Oliver, Sr., Price, Rees, Rowley, Shoeb, R. H. Smith, Verner, Watson, Ardary, and H. W. Oliver, Jr.

Nays—Messrs. Albietz, Anderson, Arthurs, Barr, Belfore, Buffum, Carroll, Coyle, David L. Fleming, Lewis J. Fleming, Follansbee, Gilmore, Hammond, Hayden, Hauch, Kohne, Kyle, Lowry, Mattern, McCandless, Meyer, Moore, R. H. Negley, W. B. Negley, Raible, Rosewell, Seiferth, Snodgrass, and Wallace—28.

So the ordinance was laid over.

NEW ORDINANCES.

An ordinance for the construction of a sewer on Twenty-seventh street from the present terminus to the Allegheny river. The rules were suspended, and the ordinance passed finally.

Ordinance for the grading and paving of Bates alley from North street to Locust alley. Remonstrance presented against this ordinance; ordinance and remonstrance read and both papers referred back to the Street Committee.

Ordinance authorizing the grading, paving and curbing of Mulberry street from Thirty-seventh to Thirty-eighth streets. Read three times and passed.

Ordinance for grading, paving and curbing of Union alley from Penn avenue to Thirty-third street. Read three times and passed.

Ordinance authorizing the opening of Mulberry street from Thirty-seventh to Thirty-eighth streets. Read three times and passed.

A BROAD HINT.

President OLIVER—The chair would like members to vote one way or another. It don't look right to stand here and only have three or four members vote on a question which requires forty votes. It don't look as though we were doing business.

The members took the rebuke kindly and were more attentive thereafter, and there was a full voiced vote on all the following measures, which was quite refreshing.

Ordinance for widening Webster avenue from Grant street to Seventh avenue. Read three times and passed.

Ordinance for opening Thirty-fourth street, from Penn avenue to Allegheny river. Read three times and passed.

Ordinance for grading, paving and curbing of Thirty-ninth street. Read three times and passed.

Report of viewers on opening of Rose street. Accepted and approved.

Mr. J. H. JONES presented an ordinance for the opening of Butler street, from northeast corner of Cemetery to Bridge street, to a uniform width of sixty feet. Read three times and passed.

WHERE ARE THE RULES?

Mr. W. B. NEGLEY asked why the members had not yet been supplied with printed copies of the rules.

President Oliver—I would also join in that inquiry.

Mr. CHALMERS explained that a contract had been made for the printing of the rules, but that the committee had never been furnished with an amended report of the rules as passed in Council. When this was done they would come out all right.

MONONGAHELA WHARF.

Mr. JOHN FLEMING presented the report of the Committee on Monongahela Wharf, with the following statement:

Amount received for wharfage	$1,745 65
Am't of appropriations on hand	3,852 67
Wharf Master's salary	83 33
Paver	60 00
Total expenditures	143 33
Balance on hand	$3,709 34

SURVEY COMMITTEE.

Mr. ROWLEY, report of Survey Committee, showing expenditures of $556 79; accompanying was a plan of grades on Frankstown avenue to City Line. Report received and plan approved.

"EVERYTHING LOVELY."

PRESIDENT OLIVER called for the report of the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform.

PRESIDENT OLIVER—"That's not signed by a majority of the members. [Laughter.]

Mr. ARTHURS' report of the Special Committee, appointed to confer with Gas Committee relative to carrying service pipes on Penn avenue, respectfully report that they have attended to their duties and report that in their opinion it would be improper to put down the service pipes at present, and that the same can be put down at any time. The report was received and Committee discharged.

THE FIRE COMMISSION.

Mr. DUFF, communication from the Secretary of the Fire Commission, stating that the terms of Messrs. John J. Torley, J. H. McIlroy and Wm. B. Neeper, as members of the Fire Commission would expire on the 25th inst. Received and filed.

Mr. JONES, petition for opening of Butler street in Eighteenth ward. Received and filed.

Mr. PRICE, resolutions for flag-stone crossing on Gas street, near the Birmingham bridge, and on Second avenue opposite the foot of the steps, west of the Birmingham bridge. Referred to Street Committee.

"MOVING DAY."

A resolution was presented from Select Council recommending to landlords and tenants a change in "moving day" from April first to May first, which elicited some debate.

Mr. MORGAN moved to concur.

Mr. FOLLANSBEE objected. He thought it was a private matter, which Councils had nothing to do with.

Mr. MCCANDLESS thought it might change the custom of moving in April, and would be exceedingly advantageous.

Mr. SCOTT drew from his experiences of many years agonizing pictures of the distress to tenants and the damage to houses of this moving in April, which was a "boisterous month," while May, warm and genial and pleasant, was especially attractive; a change would work a social revolution of the most gratifying character.

Mr. WATSON called attention to the fact that May first in other cities was moving day, and Pittsburgh should conform to other metropolitan centres in this respect.

Mr. FOLLANSBE—Well, let us recommend a postponement to the first of July, and then the busy season will be over (laughter).

Mr MCCANDLESS made an ineffectual attempt to have the resolution laid over for one month, that the members might have time for mature deliberation.

The resolution was finally passed, and the action of S. C. thus concurred in.

RELATING TO STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

The "further supplement to an act, entitled an act concerning streets and sewers in the city of Pittsburgh," was then presented.

Mr. SMITH presented an amendment to the effect that deep ravines be included in the benefits to be derived from the supplement. Lost.

Mr. MCCANDLESS moved to postpone action for one month.

Mr. EVAN JONES—It is important Mr. President that we pass this "act" to-day, or the city will have to pay $10,000 for culverts during the coming summer.

MR. SCOTT—If you keep your seat it will be passed. (Laughter.)

A vote was then taken and the action of Select Council concurred in, the supplement being thus approved.

ENTHUSIASM.

The President read the following telegram:

QUARTER SESSIONS—JUDGE STOWE.

In this Court, the petition for an order defining the duties of the Clerk to the License Board was called up and the following order made:

Court of Quarter Sessions, Allegheny County, Pa.:

And now, April 10th, 1871, it is hereby ordered and directed that hereafter the Clerk of our said Court shall not produce any application for license to sell liquor before the Board of License of said county until the requirements of the act of Assembly, dated March 31st, 1856, section 8 (See Purdon's Digest, page 664, section 13) have been fully complied with.

BY THE COURT.

In making this order the Court said that it was not deemed necessary to review the whole law, as that was already as clear and distinct as it could be made. There need be no mistakes about it and could be no trouble provided its requirements were faithfully carried out.

It was the duty of the Clerk and he alone to endorse the action of the Board on each application. This must be done also while the Board was in session and just when the Board had decided. No future time would do for the work.

Mr. Moore, counsel for some of the applicants whose license was at first refused and afterwards granted, asked the Court how action would be taken in regard to licenses indorsed by an individual members of the Board, which the Court had just decided would be illegal.

Judge Stowe replied that each case of the kind referred to would have to be brought before the Court separately, and if it was found that the papers were not endorsed by the Clerk, the license would be revoked.

HOMICIDE.

Quarrel of Relations—Ended by a Death-Blow Instant Death of the Victim.

Yesterday we received intelligence of a sad quarrel which occurred between two men up the Connellsville Railroad, and which in the end added another case to the record of homicides in Fayette county. The parties were brothers-in-law—were respectfully John Hoar and James Cassiday. The owned adjoining properties at Dunbar, a few miles above Connellsville, and had been disputing for some time about the line. Yesterday morning, it is said, they met again, both being in liquor, and renewed the old difficulty. From words they soon passed to blows, when Cassiday struck Hoar upon the neck, knocking him, as it was supposed, senseless. Upon investigation it was found that Hoar had been killed by the blow, which had been received on a spot that had once been a running sore, but had healed up.

As soon as Cassiday discovered the result of the quarrel he attempted to run away, but was arrested subsequently and committed to the Fayette county jail, where he will remain for trial.

Amusements.

THE PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE was thronged by a large and enthusiastic audience composed of the patrons of the drama assembled to testify their appreciation of Mr. Canning's untiring and successful efforts to cater for their amusement during the years that he has had charge of the Opera House. The testimonial was a spontaneous tribute both to his character as a manager and a gentleman and as such reflected great credit on the many friends who designed the compliment. The play selected for the occasion was Maeder's new four-act drama written for the celebrated dialectic actor, Mr. Joseph Murphy, and was most admirably mounted and acted.

Between the third and fourth acts Mr. Canning who was loudly called for appeared before the curtain and in a feeling manner expressed his gratitude to the people of Pittsburgh for the many kindnesses he had received at their hands during the several years that he had been among them. He was very grateful and would, as long as he lived, remember their kind appreciation of his endeavors to please them. He was much pained to say the saddest word in our common language—"farewell"—and yet necessity compelled him to it, but he hoped the day was not far distant when he would be able to revisit Pittsburgh and renew the many pleasant associations he had formed here. Mr. Canning's remarks were received with the heartiest applause.

Upon their conclusion John W. Taylor, Esq., made his appearance, and proceeded in an eloquent manner as follows: "We have learned with pain that you are about to sever your connection with the amusements of our city, and it is with the utmost diffidence that I assume the honor delegated to me of expressing to you the profound regret such a course on your part has excited among your many sincere friends in this city. We remember with feelings of deep gratitude the very many pleasant hours your managerial career has been the means of affording us. To your energy and enterprise, among many other pleasant and useful things, are we indebted for this magnificent Temple of the Muses. When you came amongst us there was a long-standing, deep seated prejudice against the drama in any and every form, but you, sir, by your probity and the elevated character of the performances instituted by you, have done much to create a new history in the drama of this city, and in a great measure to do away with the unjust prejudice that so long oppressed it. Mr. Taylor, in an eloquent and impressive strain, continued his address, which for a voluntary offering of the kind, was the happiest we have ever heard. He is one of the few of our rising young orators. His sound, sensible remarks on this occasion roused the feelings of all present, and confirmed the high reputation he has already made of a golden-tongued orator. At the conclusion of his remarks he proceeded to bestow upon Mr. Canning a set of silver table pieces worth six hundred dollars. Mr. Canning made no response. The sudden surprise overcame him. But the gift was worthily bestowed, and upon its presentation the entire audience cheered lustily and with good heart.

After the presentation of the silver, Mr. Gotthold stepped forward and, in his unapproachable manner, read the following note and appropriate address, which was signed by all the attaches of the Opera House:

"MR. CANNING: We, the ladies and gentlemen of your company, deem it our duty to tender you a few farewell words on this, the eve of your departure from this city. Our professional relations have always been very pleasant, and we all earnestly hope that wherever your future lot is cast that you will be surrounded with as warm friends as you leave here. We desire thus publicly to thank you for the many kindnesses you have shown us in the past, and wish you an enjoyable trip across the sea, a happy return, and a successful future."

Mr. Canning may well feel proud of his benefit, and feel assured that wherever he goes the best wishes and the heartiest prayers of all Pittsburgh will follow him.

OPERA HOUSE.—Miss Maggie Desmond made her first appearance to rather a slim audience last night. The bill was a good one and well rendered, especially the parts of Tooley, Morris and the other special artist. The same bill will be repeated to-night.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—Manager Aims' new combination was a most decided success. The members having acquitted themselves admirably, and won hosts of friends by the able manner in which they rendered their various roles. A splendid bill is offered to-night.

MASONIC HALL.—This is the last week in which our citizens will have an opportunity of seeing that interesting and wonderful curiosity, the double headed girl, as she will positively leave our city at the end of this week, so you that have not seen her take advantage of this opportunity as it may never occur again.

To Every family, tailor or seamstress using the Home Shuttle Sewing Machine, it has given entire satisfaction.

SALOON KEEPERS WATERLOO.

The Second List of Applications—A Wholesale Slaughter—But one License Granted—Over One Hundred Laid Over—The Board Adjourns sine die.

Yesterday morning was fixed upon as the time for the hearing of the second list of applicants before the License Board, and ten o'clock found a strong array of the saloon keepers, with their old foes the Temperance men drawn up in front of the Board in the Grand Jury's room.

The attendance was the largest that has yet been observed since the first day of the war, and the excitement and anxiety was only less than at that time, for the reason that the Temperance advocates generally remain serene, and the saloon keepers have subsided to that plane of sad resignation, from which hardly anything would move them; perhaps a vigorous earthquake might excite their surprise, but nothing short of that would get up anything to compare with their first enthusiasm.

The gentle tipstave who lords it over all at these gatherings, succeeded in promptly obtaining the requisite degree of solemn quiet, as the Commissioners ascended to their Tribune and Col. Browne assumed his place in the fore-ground.

The Col. held in his arms a huge bundle, containing the "list" to be dispensed of, over one hundred in number. He preceded the opening of the bundle by reading in relation to the time of fixing applications as follows:

Court of Quarter Sessions, Allegheny county, Pa:

And now, April 10th, 1871, it is hereby ordained and directed that hereafter the Clerk of our said Court shall not produce any application for license to sell liquor before the Board of License of said county until the requirements of the act of Assembly, dated 31st March, 1855, section 8, (see Purdon's Digest, page 664, section 13), have been fully complied with.

BY THE COURT.

It was then explained that the section of the law referred to provided, that every person intending to apply for a license shall file with the clerk his petition at three weeks before presenting the same to the Board of Licensers. Notice of the same shall be published, &c. The first publication shall be at least ten secular days before the time fixed for hearing said application.

As the law was thus laid down an ominous silence fell upon the attendants in the room, and the anxiety deepened on the face of each saloon-keeper as

Col. Browne said—Those persons who have had their applications in on the 19th of March will be heard. The others will have to be laid aside until a further meeting of the Board.

MR. TAYLOR INSTRUCTS THE CLERK.

Mr. Coyle—If this course is pursued it will keep some of the attorneys here all the day. I move that the Board adjourn over until to-morrow.

Clerk Browne said he would run over the list as speedily as possible and call those who would be heard to-day.

In reading over the list the clerk called attention of quite a large number of the applicants to the fact that their papers were not signed.

John W. Taylor, Esq., said that when an applicant appeared before the Clerk and filed his petition, it should be the duty of the Clerk to see that it was duly signed before publication was made. He asked the Board to make an order to that effect.

Clerk Browne—Messrs. Commissioners, I wish to explain how this business has heretofore been done. These applicants have not been in the habit of employing attorneys. They expect the Clerk to act as their attorney. While I am willing to accommodate them as far as possible, I cannot look after men's affairs who will not take the time and trouble to attend to their own interests.

The Board declined to make the order asked for by Mr. Taylor, deciding that it was the business of the applicant to see that his papers were drawn in proper form.

THE FIRST APPLICATION

heard was that of Chistophor Hesler, St. Clair borough. He owns a mansion in which there are seven departments, the requisite number of which he alleges are reserved for wayfarers, and are bedded for that purpose. He also rejoices in the possession of a stable for twelve head of horses. Deferred.

Isaac Rankin, Upper St. Clair. Has ten rooms; six bedrooms, eight beds; six beds for strangers and travelers.

Commissioner Neely—The petition does not state that the applicant has any beds at all.

Mr. Rankin—I only moved into it since the first of April.

Mr. Negley—Then he does not come within the requirements of the law.

The application was refused.

THE "OLD DROVER'S" HOME.

Wilhelmina Myers, at Twenty-seventh and Penn streets, was the subject of the third hearing. She is the hostess of the "Old Drovers'" home. Her stable accommodations tended to strengthen her case, more especially as she has sixteen rooms.

Mr. Negley—When did you move into that house, Mrs. Myers?

Applicant—I moved in last week, but I had the house rented before that.

Mr. McKelvey, her lawyer, said it had been a tavern stand for many years—"In fact, ever since I was a small boy," which assertion being very doubtful, proof of its antiquity was modified somewhat by the gentleman stating that it was a house of entertainment for man and beast for many years back.

She had not been in the house long enough to get a license, however, and was refused. The "old drovers" out that way will have to look for another home.

Adam Jae, East Birmingham, confessed to four rooms out of thirteen for the use of travelers, having eight couches, more or less downy in their make-up. Passed muster.

AN "OMISSION FLOORS" HIM.

William Pollock, First ward, Pittsburgh. Sufficient accommodations proved.

Mr. Moreland, counsel for the applicant, said he had omitted to say anything about beds in the petition. It was a mere clerical error, and he would ask the Board to allow him to supply the omission, or to furnish proof to that effect.

The Board said a new petition would be necessary. License refused.

Florentine Zeigler, East Birmingham, has seven rooms and five beds; four beds for travelers.

Mr. Negley—Mr. Zeigler, what precinct is your house in?

Applicant—It's a grocery store now.

Mr. Negley—Then you don't live in it?

Applicant—No, sir.

The application was refused for the obvious reason.

Robert Miller, Seventh ward, Allegheny.

Mr. Negley—This petition sets forth only three rooms, with eight beds for strangers and travelers. This petition is therefore not sufficient.

The Board examined Mr. Miller, who stated that he had four rooms for travelers.

The applicant was directed to file a new petition, as this one only set forth three rooms.

Applicant—What did you say, Mister? [Laughter.]

The observation was repeated.

Applicant—That is too bad. The petition is wrong. You may send a committee to examine my house.

Mr. Negley—This comes from the neglect of applicants to employ lawyers.

NO MORE TO-DAY.

Clerk Browne—There are no more applications that can be heard to-day. These applications (holding in his hand a large bundle) must lie over three or four days, in order to come within the requirements of the law, as laid down in the order of the Court.

The Clerk requested the Board to take up the applications in the order in which they came in the bundle, stating that he was constantly besieged by various parties with solicitations to take up their cases first.

An order was made in accordance with the request.

W. C. Moreland, Esq., desired to know whether, in the case of applications refused because of a clerical error, the affidavit of the petitioner attached, there would not be all that was required to make the papers regular. This point he wished decided, so that applicants would not be compelled to take out new papers and be subject to the expense thereof.

Mr. Negley and the gentleman decided to examine the law on the subject, and report their conclusions at the next session of the Board.

The Board then adjourned sine die, having granted one license out of one hundred and fourteen applications, which the Clerk held in his hand at the opening of Court.

It was a Waterloo for the saloon keepers.

Just here it may be in place to give "credit where credit belongs" by commending the impartiality with which the License Board rule out all applicants who do not come within the strict requirements of the law. At no time was this more apparent than yesterday, and the Board certainly deserve commendation for their strict construction of the law, and rigid enforcement of its every provision.

ROBBERIES IN ALLEGHENY.

Two Houses Entered—Money and Jewelry Carried Off.

Two bold robberies were perpetrated in Allegheny city on Sunday night, the first between seven and nine o'clock, at the parsonage of the German Church on the corner of Ohio street and Union avenue. The pastor and his family had gone to the church, which adjoins the parsonage, leaving their front door unlocked, and during the services the thieves entered and went through the house. Drawers were forced open and the contents examined, clothing was taken out of wardrobes, and cupboards and trunks carefully inspected. They succeeded in finding some ten dollars in money, and also secured two checks, one for $600 and the other for $800, the former payable in Allegheny, and the other in Dayton, Ohio. They also carried off some jewelry. The robbery was discovered when the pastor and his family returned to the house. The front door was found firmly secured, but the door in the rear, through which the thieves escaped, was open. Information of the robbery was immediately conveyed to the police, and yesterday morning payment on the checks was stopped.

The second visit was paid to the house of Mr. Charles Beckert, No. 346 Ohio street whose family were also at church. It was supposed that an entrance was effected with skeleton keys. The thieves made a very thorough search and succeeded in finding three dollars in money and a lot of valuable jewelry.

Chief Clark and officer Holmes while passing an alley near the Mayor's office about twelve o'clock on the same night, saw the door of a boarding house standing open and approached it cautiously in the hope of catching the thieves at work, but were disappointed, and after waking the inmates and learning that nothing had been stolen, they left.

Murderous Assault.

Last night about ten o'clock as a young man named John Carvel was passing down Sixth avenue, just as he reached of Anderson's barber-shop, three doors below the corner of Smithfield street, he was knocked senseless by a brick thrown by some unknown party. Before he could be picked up and carried into the shop a second brick came crushing through the window of the barber shop. Carvel was then carried into the shop, and Dr. Gallaher summoned, who pronounced that the insensibility was caused by a slight concussion of the brain, but that the injury was not serious. The young man was finally taken to his home on Grant street by some friends.

Coroner's Inquest.

Yesterday evening Coroner West held an inquest at Sallsburg, North Versailles township, upon the body of George Banks. The deceased was drowned at McKeesport on the 12th of February last, of which we made a record at the time, but the body was not recovered until yesterday. When found it was somewhat decomposed but was recognizable and was identified by Mrs. Banks and several of the neighbors. There was in the pockets $50 in cash and some smoking pipes. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The deceased leaves a wife and three children. He was about thirty-three years of age and a native of Scotland.

I Have been using Sawyer's Barber Soap for about nine years, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best shaving soap I have ever used. It is now used in our family almost exclusively as a toilet soap and gives entire satisfaction.

OBITUARY.

Death of Irwin B. Laughlin.

The numerous friends of this very worthy young man, will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred on the 9th inst., at Nice, France, after a painful struggle of some months with that fatal malady, congestion of the lungs. His body will be brought home for interment. Mr. Laughlin was the second son of James Laughlin, Esq., the President of the First National Bank of this city, and was a member of the firm of Jones & Laughlins, proprietors of the extensive American Iron Works, situated in East Birmingham. In August last he led the daughter of William S. Bissell, Esq. to the altar, and on September first started on a tour through Europe accompanied with his young wife, and several of their friends. Shortly after landing on the other side of the ocean, his health, which had not been robust for some time, began to fail utterly, and admonished him that it would be necessary to find some genial clime, where care and kind nursing might restore him sufficiently to enable him to resume his journey, or perhaps, to turn his steps homeward. But oh! how sad we are to state it, his fond prayer to again see his native place, was not to be granted. All that kind friends and affectionate hearts could do, was done, but without avail. Death marked him for his own, and he was not again to see his home and mother. In early boyhood it was the writer's good fortune to form his acquaintance, which ripened in after years to a warm friendship, and he can cheerfully testify to his uniform, generous, kind and mild disposition. With an amiability seldom witnessed in man, he added the crowning virtue of unselfishness. He could not do enough, it seemed, for a friend, and in everything, he studied more the wishes and fancies of his companions than those of his own. It is sad to part with a good, true friend; but to give him up to death, when in a foreign land, without the comforting assurance given by the farewell gaze of the kindly eye, and the farewell clasp of the dying hand, adds to the poignancy of one's grief—the bitterness of the loss sustained. Kind heart, brave soul, generous Irve, we bid thee a long, last farewell.

For the past twelve months I have used almost exclusively, your "Barbers' Soap," and I cheerfully bear my witness to its superiority. It is far more pleasant than the highly scented French soaps, or the imitations that are so commonly used, and is much more durable and economical, either for shaving or for use in the bath. I am certain it only needs a fair trial to commend it to very general favor; besides being a home manufacture, it is a superior article that justly merits commendation.

A New Strategy of the Burglars.

[From the Toledo Blade, April 3.]

The fertility of invention on the part of rogues appears to be equal to the difficulties under which they labor in eluding the vigilance of the authorities. The best trick of the sneak thieves brought to our notice is as follows: On Friday evening of last week, the occupants of a brick house on Huron street, which we are requested not to name, were surprised by the sound of a ringing tenor voice in front of the house, executing with much effect an old war song. As the man appeared to be displaying his charming talent under the stimulant of an over stock of beer, all the occupants of the house flocked to the front windows and door to listen to the song and see the man strike his operatic postures. They stood for some moments listening and smiling at the serenader, when suddenly a table was upset in the rear part of the basement, but no attention was paid to the circumstance until a man stepped up to the singer and whispered in his ear, when both started off straight and sober on a keen run. An investigation followed, when it was found that a sneak thief, probably a confederate of the singer, had entered from the rear during the execution of the song and the absence of the family, and had gathered a large quantity of valuables, but having upset a table in his progress, became alarmed for his safety and fled without taking his booty.

A GHOST STORY.

Crushed to Death in a Cathedral Clock.

The bell-ringer in the Cathedral of Wurtzburg has perished under very singular circumstances. The church possesses a splendid clock, with ponderous and complicated works, while a pendulum of proportionate length vibrates to and fro with a dull and monotonous thud. Recently the clock needed cleaning, and the ringer was deputed to superintend the work, though he ruefully endeavored to be excused from the task. It seems that he had never willingly approached the belfry, from certain unpleasant associations. About twenty years ago he had killed his predecessor in office, accusing him of carrying on a criminal intrigue with his wife. When brought to trial he escaped the gallows owing to a deficiency of legal proof.

The patronage of one of the Canons then procured him the appointment vacant through the death of his victim. Hence, it is said, arose his superstitious dread in connection with the belfry, which was supposed to be haunted by the ghost of the murdered ringer. On the morning when the clock was to be cleaned it was suddenly stopped, and the bell-ringer was nowhere to be found. A workman from the town was sent for, and ascended the tower, when he was horrified to find the pendulum and lower works dripping with blood. Upon searching further, the body of the bell-ringer was found entangled in the works, frightfully mangled and crushed. One supposition is, that he committed suicide by climbing up the pendulum and then pitching himself into the middle of the machinery of the clock.

But the wonder-loving gossips of the place, with a thoroughly German propensity for the horrible, declare that the guilty man, upon reaching the gloomy chamber wherein the works revolved, was horrorstruck by the apparition of his murdered predecessor sitting astride the great balance-wheel of the clock, and had then been drawn into the works by a species of horrible and irresistible fascination similar to that which the rattle-snake is said to exercise over its prey. There sat the specter, rubbing its gory hands with hideous glee as the victim was slowly drawn in among the cogged-wheels and ratchets of the machinery. An agonized yell, a crushing of bones, and all was still! Such, according to the Italie, is the newest legend of the belfry of Wurtzburg.

English Blades.

It would probably be impossible for the English smith now to produce such work as some of the later specimens of articulated armor in the tower of London. On the other hand where for special purposes, special attention has been given to the manufacture of the iron, the result is satisfactory. We question whether Toledo rapiers or Damascus sabres would stand uninjured, taking them one with another, the rude tests to which Mr. Wilkinson, of Pall Mall, subjects his best swords. It is true, that of these carefully made blades we have seen three out of four damaged in the test. But the one which passes is a weapon to which a man may safely trust. If any corslet now worn in European warfare resists its thrust, it is the fault, not of the blade, but of the arm that wields it. In preparing iron for special purposes, the chemical character of the water used in the factory, appears to be very important. It was an old byword in the steel trade that a good sword could not be made at Sheffield, nor a good knife in Birmingham, the sword being the boast of the latter town, and the knife of the former.—London Builder.

CONSUMPTION.
Its Cure and its Preventive.
BY J. H. SCHENCK, M.D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionary disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Sea-weed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature can not be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of the blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone for ever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea-weed Tonic $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers. mh31:p3-TTh
